~Chapter 3~

The Meeting according to Robbi Spencer

Music Video Screen shot of "Is It True?" based on true events

I met Shirl online on Marcus Frind's website PlentyOfFish.com in 2005. We hit it off right away and began talking daily via e-mail. Shirl was living South of Los Angeles at the time and was involved in a ministry that kept a daily blog, that Shirl was one of the main writers of. I read her blogs religiously, no pun intended and through reading what she had written, I began to fall in love with her even more. Shirl and I got really close in a short period of time. I was just positive that God has chosen her to be my forever mate. I was both nervous and excited about my new-found love. Shirl began developing feelings for me and I could tell because of how she was acting and by some things that she had said on the phone like, "Robbi there is something that I want to tell you, but I got some things to do right now and I will have to talk to you later." That was the last that I heard from Shirl for over a year.

Then one day in 2007, when my band had relocated to a commercial district, Shirl came back into my life. This time, I wrote a really beautiful song for Shirlanne called "You Shine". Shirl was very touched by the song and once again, our love was rekindled and grew even more. Shortly afterward, Shirl and I did not talk for several months and in that time we moved our studio next door and I was really occupied anyway, so my attention was focused elsewhere at that time. In time, Shirl came back into my life via BlogTV, which is a video broadcasting site where you can host your own live TV show, which Secret Enterprise did on many occasions. Shirl would frequent the show and hang out with us, which was a lot of fun and it was nice to have her in my life again. Little did I know that the whole time I was talking to her on BlogTV, thinking that she was 18-hours away from me that she had moved North of me about an hour and a half away. One day she sent me an e-mail saying, "What would you say if I told you that I live closer to you than you think?" I was like, "How much closer?" and when she told me I was pissed, omg!

I didn't talk to Shirl for a while and I really missed her, but at the same time I could not believe that she would do that to me. She knew how much I loved her and wanted to be with her and none of that had ever changed. I continued to have women in my life, because she seemed disinterested in us being together. I felt led to talk to Shirl more and even had some erotic dreams about her that seemed so real that I woke aching for her. One day Shirl straight out asked me, "Do you still feel the same way that you did about me before?" I was shocked that she actually grew a pair and asked me, but my response was, "Yes I do!" and that was the beginning of an amazing series of events that transpired and that have brought us together.

On July 1st, 2011 Shirl came to SE Studios and began a new life with me. I had known for many years that we were supposed to be together and could never really understand why God would do that to me if He loved me, but now I know that it is all a matter of timing that is based on a system of freewill. Shirl and I have blossomed into America's Cutest Couple, but not just "cutest couple", but America's "Real" Cutest Couple, not some Hollywood crap or made up bullshit about these two people who don't even know each other. Though many of our videos incorporate the production technology of a state of the art recording studio, our love for each other is as real as it gets and we are a "forever couple, not a flash in the pan.

Our desire is to see other couples rekindle their love for each other. We also would like to see people who are in love, but haven't made a decision to be together, to get off their butts and do something about it. Time is a wastin' and there are so many benefits to being in a relationship with your soul mate. To find out more about America's Cutest Couple, go to: The Official Cuddlemuffin Site, or visit the Cuddlemuffin Showdown Facebook page by clicking here.

The Meeting according to Shirl Spencer

Music Video screen shot of Robbi & Shirl Spencer's remake of Close My Eyes Forever

Well.. Robbi was right in what he said, we met online on PlentyOffish.com in 2005. I had to be honest with him and as it shows in the video... the more talking I did, the deeper in trouble I got! And even though I'm honest with everything I still don't think being honest helps my situation in this.. at all. lol It still seems that the more that comes out, the more I get myself in trouble! Oh gee.. and you get to watch it all unfold here. You know that old saying you used to hear.. "Just be honest and you won't get in trouble?" Yeah well.... you run with that dream!! Anyway.... here in the real world....

Robbi and I fell instantly in love with each other. There was NO question on either part. You know how you always hear.. You just know when you meet that one special person that you know you're going to spend the rest of your life with? Well.. We Knew! I knew I was not only in love with him but I knew Robbi was supposed to be my husband from the first time I laid eyes on him. I was so in love.. it was so real.. so deep.. so permanent.. so pure.... so honest and I knew it was a forever love that I felt for him.. but because I had never experienced anything like that before, it scared me. I would join Robbi and his band, Secret Enterprise when they were on BlogTv. When I knew Robbi was upset with me I would log in anonymously or as "Tainted Angel" and would hang out but I wouldn't say a word, I would just watch and listen. I never told Robbi at that time I was also known as "Tainted Angel". But if he looked on his friends list on BlogTv, He'll see Tainted Angel listed as a friend. It was my nick name growing up because when I was little I had this idea that I wanted to grow up to be an angel and sing to Jesus and to the world. But I learned humans don't transform into angels (in wing sense) so the name Tainted Angel was given to me and it guess it always stuck.

I logged in one day and I saw something blinking at the bottom of the chat box... and it was Robbi saying "Hello Shirlanne... I love you!!" but then the butterflies would start and that feeling of being scared would come on and I wasn't able to say what I really wanted to say. Through the course of Robbi and I talking through the years I had moved to northern Cali. I was from 73 miles south of Los Angeles and I relocated to only an hour and a half away from Robbi instead of being 18 hours away. I really wanted to tell him but I was so nervous, I just couldn't bring myself to tell him. I knew I needed to finally tell him I had moved closer to him so I sent him an email saying, "What would you think if I told you, I'm no longer living as far as you thought anymore?" I really did not think he would get upset. He responded by asking me "exactly how close?" I said I'm no longer 18 hours away, but only 1 and a half hours away". He asked for how long... at first I said, a little over 2 years. Omg... he was furious! At first I couldn't understand why he got so mad. So I did what most any girl would do... I went to my friends! I told them what happened and their response was, "He didn't know? OMG... no wonder he got mad!!" I heard so many responses but all of them were in Robbi's defense saying they'd be angry too!

Many times I would get the courage up and I would start to actually tell him that I was in love with him... but then I would get scared thinking, what if his love wasn't a forever love? So I backed out because I couldn't handle hearing him say that he didn't feel the same or something like that. Little did I know, he felt the same way. The Lord was giving me dreams and visions that Robbi was the one and that he was alone and he loved me and needed me... but I wasn't realizing that's what the dreams and visions meant at the time.

The Lord finally sent a complete stranger to come to me one day while on my way to network some security cameras at a store I was helping at. The stranger told me, to quit running from Robbi because his love was "genuine" and I didn't have to be afraid and told me not to keep Robbi at arm's distance anymore. That stranger never knew Robbi or I. It was the first and only time I had ever seen that man. The Lord confirmed it quite a few times to me of what he told me through this stranger. Then one night as I was writing some music, I had Robbi's picture as my wallpaper I looked up at his picture and out of nowhere, the Lord quicken my spirit so strong and he was reminding me of what he told me through that stranger and through others. (..And Yes, the Lord told me through other people as well.) So about 3 months later, I said, Ok Lord... if what you say is true, let's just see if he gets online tonight! And sure enough... he did! It really surprised me because Robbi usually wasn't online at night. I was shaking so bad but I finally came out and asked Robbi.. If he still felt the same way he did when he wrote that song for me and he said, "Yes, and even more!!"

I knew he was the one God made just for me, but didn't realize he knew it too. See, a lot of people say I love you, but that doesn't mean their in love... So I didn't realize Robbi was just as much in love with me as I was with him... so for at least 4 years I ran but eventually I ended up running straight into his arms. BUT... he still isn't over the fact that he waited so long for me... because he knew the whole time what I was trying to say but he needed to hear it out of my mouth. We talked one night after we got married, and he asked me.. "Exactly... how long did you live close to me before telling me you moved close to me?" Knowing I had previously told him, little over 2 years and I was very vague in my answers, I finally told him it was 3 years... He said, "WHAT??? Oh, no you didn't!!! You mean to tell me it was that long before you told me you moved here!! It did not go over well.

It also certainly didn't help matters when he found out I had actually come through town without telling him when I was on my way to Sacramento. He asked me why I didn't tell him I when I was in town and I said because he was upset. (Yeah.. that went over real big!) He said that didn't matter, I still should have told him because he wanted to see me. Because of everything we've been through Robbi can tell you, the emotions on that video..their real baby!!! Anyway you can stop by The Official CuddleMuffin Showdown on FaceBook and say hi or visit us on The Official Cuddlemuffin Showdown Website and check out our photo shoots and videos!

There is so much more I need to say, but I think I better stop here while I'm not in that deep... yet!! So, lets see if I managed to get out myself out of trouble here and see what Robbi has to say... Bring it baby!!

Secret Visions - by Robbi Spencer

It was the year 2045 and Earth was a scary place to live. People traveled the galaxy in all forms of craft and time travel was something that was available to those who had the technology. Samuel L. Jackson from the band Secret Enterprise had a son who would someday save the people of Earth, but would later become a fugitive who would spend his life on the run from the people who he had once served. There would be hope if they could get to Cirrus-5

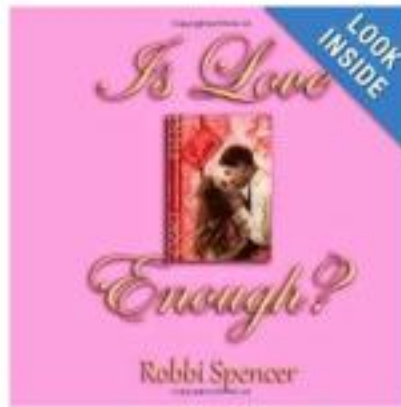

I Didn't Do It - by Robbi Spencer

Many times I wondered what it would be like to write a book about my life experiences, only list them in chronological order, but I couldn't think of a way to even remember the events of my life and then one day while I was telling one of my stories, it hit me. . . I could easily retrace my steps if I could only remember all of the people that I dated in my life so far. I didn't realize how hard that would prove to be until I created "The Girlfriend List", a list of all of my sexual exploits! Who would even want to read this garbage? You would, so buy the book and get started reading, because once you do, you won't be able to put the book down! This is definitely NOT a children's book, so beware....

In My Own Words - by Robbi Spencer

My music speaks for itself and says the things that are hidden in my heart, like my ongoing quest to find the perfect mate and how I feel about certain people. This book can be read from cover-to-cover, which would be awesome of you if you did that or it can be used as a lyrical reference book if you need to look up a particular song of mine. My desire is to make you think about stuff that you normally wouldn't think about. It is also my hope that you will laugh and enjoy yourself as you read it.

Is Love Enough? - by Robbi Spencer

This is probably the best conglomeration of information on the subject of love and relationships and what it takes to make one work or get out of one if necessary. Many prominent authors appear in this collection of information, compiled from the Internet and other sources.

No Quarter - by Robbi Spencer

This is a story of sex on the high seas! Read as Captain Morgan lives a life that people have only dreamed of. Not a children's book and some parts may be offensive to Conservative Christians.

Chasing Butterflies - by Robbi Spencer

A somewhat comical look into the Bi-polar brain, in the hopes to figure out what is real and what is fantasy. Written by Record Producer and Entertainer Robbi Spencer, this is a quirky look at manic depression and how it affects the lives of others.

Shirl Spencer Books

Broken But Not Bent- by Robbi Spencer

On June 26th, 2002 at around 3:00am, a severe thunder storm in Hamilton, Alabama brought lightning that struck the home that Shirl was living in and caused a fire that killed three of her children, Jesse (age 7), Christian (age 9), and Jeremy (age 15). Though the fire was deemed to be an accident by investigators, details regarding the fire and the days leading up to the accident seem extremely sketchy at best, including the suspicious behavior of Shirl's ex-husband, who later used paid public officials to carry out a plan to publicly ruin her name and reputation and to steal her daughter from her. Watch her journey back on the road to learning to live again. This heart moving book will make you look at your own life and count your blessings. Guaranteed to change your life as you know it. Based on a true story!

Love On The Run - By Robbi & Shirl Spencer

There was never any doubt, no question that it was love at first sight when they first laid eyes on each other. They both knew instantly they had just laid eyes on their life long forever love and soul mate. Robbi knew instantly Shirl would one day become his wife and Shirl instantly knew it too. That's when Shirl freaked and the trouble began. . She knew immediately she was in trouble because she was feeling true love, something she had never felt before and instantly started her 4 year long running expedition. Even after 4 years Robbi still never gave up the hope or his dream of making Shirl his wife because he knew they they were meant to be and they both knew God was bringing them together. He knew that it would happen, but 'when' seemed to be the biggest question.

Watch the journey these two rock stars take on their road to where fairy tales become reality! A movie based on the book is currently in pre-production.

The Moment: Inspired by the meeting of the man of my dreams. My Husband; Producer Robbi Spencer. Based on a True Story. "Oh they waited so long... what are they going to do? All they could do was think about each other... when that day comes when they stand in each other's space. She'll look up into his eyes and the very core of her inner most being will soar as her body trembles in his sight because he holds her in complete and total

SE Studios

A DIVISION OF PROGRESSIVE EDGE RECORDS

Click here to visit SE Studios online

SE Studios is an amazing place to create music and shoot videos and learn the art and craft of music in it's very purest form. SE Studios is by far a cut above the rest and that is mostly attributed to the technical savvy of our staff. It all started back in 2005 as five guys getting together to play music. That became StrangeEye Band. Brant Callahan had an dream of creating a chill recording studio that would operate as a hub for musician and music people in general to become a part of and partner up and learn from each other. Brant is a musician and had worked at several recording studios in the Bay Area, and he and Robbi Spencer and Albert Leon decided that it was finally time. What they have built is an incredible space that serves as a music studio and a place to take a moment and just kick it. Whether it be to rehearse with your band, record your next hit song, or even shoot a music video, SE is the premiere destination of Rockstars!

SE Studios was really birthed out of a serious need for a 420-friendly studio where people could come to work on their projects and feel safe. A lot of people do not realize how dangerous the studio environment can actually be, but the space has remained a safe-haven for many a wayward musician on his or her journey. For several years, it was just Albert, Brant and Robbi running the studio and it was way too much work for the amount of time that everyone was able to contribute. In 2010, Robbi began living on-site and things picked up and then in 2011, Robbi and Shirl got married and she became the newest addition to the SE family, becoming the SE Studio Mom. SE really is one big happy family and over time, has gained quite a membership to it's Private Recording Club.

For the best recording studio in Grass Valley, check out SE Studios
